

A Report on Alumni Interaction

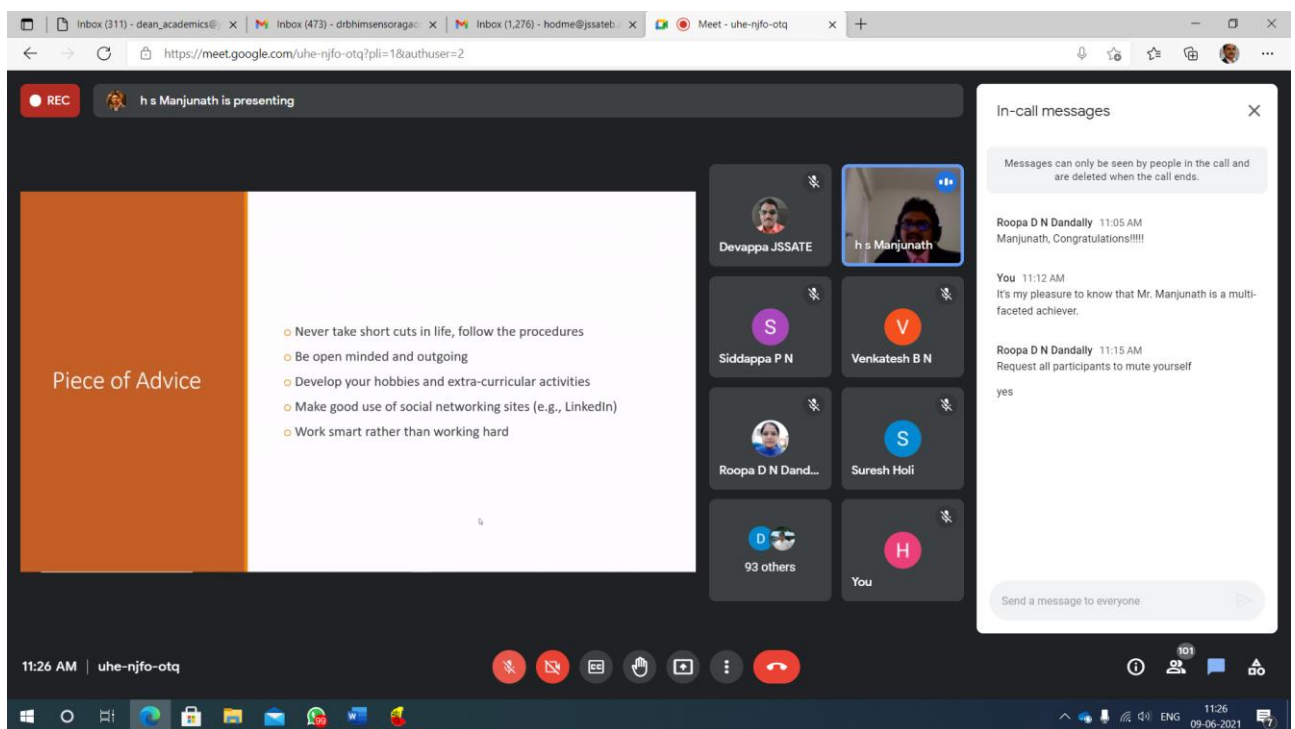

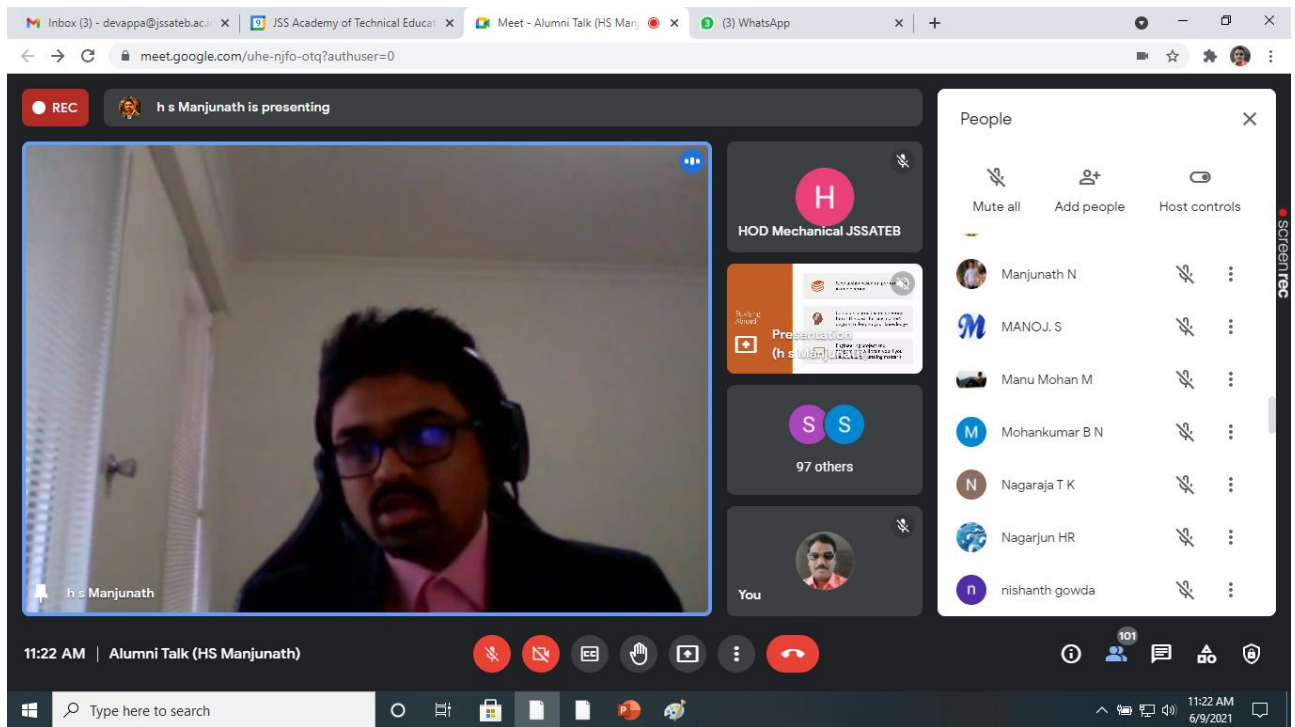

Date & Time: 09.06.2021; 11 am – 12 noon

Topic: Experience and Knowledge Sharing

Name of the alumnus: Mr. H S Manjunath (2015 graduated), Project Delivery Experts, M/s. Tracey Brunstrom & Hammond Pvt. Ltd., Melbourne, Australia.

Target audience: VI & VIII sem students; No. of students attended: 92

Mr. Manjunath was a class topper every year and was a good sportsperson too.

Mr. Manjunath highlighted the importance of Mechanical Engineering and its significant role in manufacturing industries. He suggested to his juniors to be strong in the fundamentals which lead to understanding of the modern concepts delivering the best in their professional life. Acquiring skills such as technical writing, presentation & good communication will fetch good returns in the long run, he added. Some personality development traits he suggested to the students are 'not to take short cuts in life', 'be open minded and outgoing', 'develop good hobbies', 'participate in extracurricular activities', 'make effective use of social networks', etc.

He answered the queries raised by the students.

Dr. Devappa, Asst. Professor, introduced and welcomed Mr. H S Manjunath., and Mr. Lakshmi Prasad L., a third-year student proposed vote of thanks.

The event was organized by Dr. Devappa, Asst. Professor.

Dr. Bhimasen Soragaon
Head of the Department